Need to Expand your Business?

Need overflow warehousing? Rethinking your Storage needs?

Need to DOWNSIZE your costs and expand your client base?

In these turbulent economic times, running the cost of your own in-house warehouse does not make sense for many businesses. If you want to expand your business, decrease your current operating costs and improve your accessibility and distribution to your clients, call Bob or Sally at Cajun Distribution Services, Inc. at (504) 734-8824 to discover the savings your company can make using a custom warehouse. Warehousing is a necessary cost, but keeping these costs to a minimum increases your bottom-line return. Cajun Distribution Services, Inc. will work with you to minimize your storage costs as well as decrease transportation and distribution expenses. We have been saving our global customer base money and increasing their business and bottom line profits for almost a quarter-century.

At Cajun, we realize that your business is very important, and that is why we are recognized for the individual care and attention we provide to each of our clients. Our clients come first: we provide you with customized services that meet your needs — and your needs only!

Cajun Distribution Services, Inc. has been operating in New Orleans for over two decades. Through the years we have earned a reputation of offering excellent services at highly competitive rates to all of our global client base.
